ASC Integrates with Adobe Sign to Advance Enterprise-Wide Contract and Document Services

ASC delivers a seamlessly integrated contract and document services solution with Adobe Sign that makes it easy to send, track and e-sign documents directly from your CLM tool.

Ottawa, Ontario (May 2, 2016) — ASC (Advanced Software Concepts), a leading provider of SaaS and on-premise contract, document, form and configure, price and quote (CPQ) management solutions to SMBs and large enterprises, today announced that it has integrated with Adobe Sign, a key solution in Adobe Document Cloud, to deliver a comprehensive and seamlessly integrated solution for secure contract lifecycle management (CLM) e-signature and workflow processes. The solution will help accelerate the pace of business by working with your existing CLM systems and practices and expediting workflow and transactions while providing industry-leading data privacy and security.

By integrating with Adobe Sign, the solution will leverage the advanced power and flexibility of the ASC platform and Adobe's latest e-signature capabilities to offer cross-industry organizations real-time visibility and control of their contracts, documents and data, including completely automated and centralized signature processes and tracking. Customers will benefit from end-to-end CLM and document management tools that provide the premium business insights needed to close deals faster, reduce costs, improve legal compliance, mitigate risks and ultimately accelerate time to revenue. Working with Adobe Sign, ASC is also delivering further e-signing utility in its robust mobile app, enabling the mobile workforce to securely and easily manage the complete CLM lifecycle from their preferred device.

"ASC's proven end-to-end contract lifecycle management software combined with Adobe Sign's enterprise-class e-signature capabilities positions us to provide our customers with a seamlessly integrated solution that will make electronically signing documents and contracts easier than ever before, streamlining core business processes and driving new levels of efficiency," said Shawn King, President and CEO, ASC. "ASC strives to deliver continuous innovation and optimal value to our clients. Providing enhanced e-signature enablement and workflow through Adobe Sign further demonstrates this commitment."

Well-known for its full feature contract management solution, ASC Contracts, ASC offers an equally robust set of business process optimization (BPO) and business process management (BPM) solutions that address document management, form management and pricing and quoting management as well as order tracking, invoice validation and verification, data retention, records management, etc. The extended portfolio is well suited for any industry (such as healthcare, government and education, communications, financial services, energy and utilities, legal services) and organizations of all sizes and process maturity and complexity.

ASC solutions are easily extensible with function- and industry-specific modules. They provide easy-to-use configuration options, seamlessly integrate with your existing business environment, and can be tailored to fit your organization's unique contract and business process workflows. ASC solutions also include robust localization and regionalization capabilities including multi-language and multi-currency support as well as date and numeric formatting options making them well suited for global deployments.
